CHEMIST HELD FOR PASSING ATOM SECRETS TO RUSSIA

Selective Service Extension Is Considered By House With Adoption Expected During Day

Washington, May 24—(P)—A two-year extension of the selective service law was ticketed for house consideration today, with passage probable before nightfall.

While extending the draft until 1952, the proposed legislation would put actual inductions on a stand-by basis subject to the decision of congress to call up men for service.

All youths between 18 and 26 would continue to register with their draft boards and be processed as at present.

But until the house and senate, acting together, declared a national emergency existed which required an increase in the armed forces:

1. No inductions could be ordered.
2. The president could not mobilize industry or take over war-essential plants.
3. No 18-year-olds could enlist.
4. Voluntary enlistments of less than two years would be prohibited.

The draft-extension bill also authorizes the president, upon declaration of a national emergency, to order into active service all members of the military reserve for 21 months. However, 18-year-old reserves would be excused from this duty at their own request.

No large-scale opposition was anticipated by house leaders. Congress has been warned by defense (Turn to Page Eight)

BUTLER WOMAN FACES CHARGE IN SHOOTING

Butler, May 24—(P)—A conference with District Attorney Clyde Shumaker today will determine what charge will be placed against a young woman who admitted holding a gun which fatally wounded her husband.

Mrs. Mollie Parks, 21, of Parkers Landing, is being held on an open charge.

Her unemployed husband, Jack, 26, died early yesterday a short time after he was shot by a bullet from a .22 calibre rifle.

An autopsy disclosed Parks succumbed of hemorrhages induced by the wound. He was shot in the thigh.

Shumaker said Mrs. Parks told him the shooting followed a drinking party in the couple's home.

Penelec By-Pass Open To Local Motorists

Local traffic from the Warren, Starbuck and Youngsville areas is being permitted to use a private road across Warren General Concrete and Penelec property as a by-pass for road construction work on Route 6 west of Warren.

Penelec officials said they had no objection to local residents using the private way to get to and from work, or for other necessary business, but that company guards have been instructed to turn back such through traffic as auto convoys and tourists.

The private road was built at Penelec and General Concrete Products Co. expense to keep supply lines open to both these industries while Route 6 is torn up. The private road connects with a township road along the river in Starbuck and connects with Route 6 near the White drive-in theatre.

Oriental Treasure Chest Filled With Gems Is In Custody of Gen. McArthur

GM-UAW PACT IS SURPRISE TO INDUSTRY

New Contract Leaves Auto Manufacturers in Most Settled Condition In Years

UNION CLAIMS VICTORY

Detroit, May 24—(P)—The sudden and significant new General Motors contract left the auto industry today in its most settled condition in years.

All the "big three" producers—GM, Ford and Chrysler—and some of the so-called independents were signed up with the CIO United Auto Workers for at least two years.

Longest of all the agreements is the unprecedented five-year General Motors pact announced yesterday. It does not permit even a wage reopening before 1955.

The Ford contract allows either the company or union to ask for wage adjustments once before it expires in 1952. The Chrysler contract permits two wage reopenings by either side in its three-year duration.

All this seemed to leave both sides in the industry satisfied.

Management was looking forward to long periods free from labor strife. The UAW was hopeful of using the big three agreements as patterns at scores of smaller firms where bargaining has been held up pending the big settlements.

UAW President Walter Reuther said the union would use the GM pact as a pattern "wherever we can."

The union claimed it was far superior to either the strikeless Ford settlement last September or the Chrysler settlement at the end of a 100-day strike May 4.

Its major provisions were these: 1. Continuation of the unique escalator clause in the old two-year contract.

2. A guaranteed four-cent hourly wage boost when the contract goes into effect here Monday and another each May 29 thereafter for the next four years. This is known as an "annual improvement" (Turn to Page Eight)

DEFECT IN FIFTH AVENUE BRIDGE: The Fifth avenue bridge over Conewango creek will be closed to traffic for several days while street department employees determine the extent of damage in the structure. Users of the bridge have, for the past several days, noticed a low spot in the east end, and investigation late yesterday afternoon resulted in the immediate closing of the span. One of the cross girders under the bridge, the second from the abutment on the east end, has in some manner become bent and leans out of line, creating a stress that is dangerous. Street department employees are today taking up the floor of the bridge in an effort to determine if the damage can be repaired by the straightening of the girder, or if a new piece is necessary. If new material is necessary, Leland Webster, street commissioner, said that it will be a job for a company engaged in bridge building, the borough not having the necessary equipment for the work.

Mother of Six Serves Time for Damage Bill

St. Albans, Vt., May 24—(P)—For 87 days, Mrs. Hattie Cooke, 36-year-old mother of six, has been in Franklin county jail under Vermont's "closed jail" statute governing damage suits.

The wife of a $20-a-week farmhand, Mrs. Cooke was jailed for failure to pay a $1,966.75 judgment against her in an auto accident damage suit.

Her husband Stanley said last night he was caring for the children, ranging in age from eight to 18, at the Cooke home in nearby Georgia.

The 142-year-old statute provides for indefinite confinement for defendants in damage suits based on a "willful or malicious act, or neglect," where judgment is not paid.

British Hero Of African Campaign Is Dead In London

London, May 24—(P)—Viscount Wavell, the one-eyed British field marshal who crushed Italian armies in Africa ten years ago, died today.

The veteran soldier, who also served as viceroy of India in the turbulent period after the war, underwent an abdominal operation on May 5, his 67th birthday. He suffered a relapse Sunday.

A daring strategist who believed in taking calculated risks, Archibald Percival Wavell won the first substantial victories for Britain in the last war. He turned the tide, temporarily at least, in 1940 and 1941 and inspired the empire with hope in a time of deep depression.

Wavell drove Italian forces from Egypt, cleared much of Gherena and smashed the strongest elements of Mussolini's African troops.

Reverses followed for Britain in Africa, the German Africa Corps under Field Marshal Erwin Rommel striking back powerfully while the British were occupied in India where, in a period of great political turbulence he became viceroy.

In the far East, as a military commander and a political leader, he played a role in the war against the Japanese which was deeply appreciated in America. Wavell was awarded the Legion of Merit, after the war, by President Truman.

Recalled from India by the British labor government, with which he differed on questions of policy, Wavell had time to pursue interests normally not associated with a hard-bitten field marshal: a love of poetry, he edited an anthology of verse, "Other Men's Flowers," which was widely acclaimed. He was fond of poetry that "sings."

"REDEDICATION MONTH"

Harrisburg, May 24—(P)—Gov. James H. Duff yesterday proclaimed June as "Rededication Month," an observance sponsored by rural publishers to "reaffirm our faith in the ideals of liberty on which this nation was founded."

Millard A. Stofflet, publisher of the Hamburg Item, Berks county, is Pennsylvania chairman of the celebration sponsored by the National Editorial Association.

Plans for Warren's Gala Independence Day Celebration Progressing Rapidly

Plans for Warren's gala celebration, July 2d, 3rd and 4th, are shaping up in satisfactory manner according to reports submitted at a meeting of the committee in charge, headed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, held last evening in the V. F. W. building, with Jack MacDonald, co-chairman, in charge. There were twenty in attendance.

Much of the discussion concerned finances, and all present were confident that no difficulty will be experienced in securing the necessary support from the community. Solicitation has started among merchants, and a committee is preparing to contact all industries, clubs and other organizations.

It was reported that the board of school directors has made Beaty school available for activities in connection with the celebration. It is expected to hold the Sunday evening vespers services on the lawn in front of the school, as well as the variety show Monday evening, July 3rd. Arrangements are being made for a street dance on the third, along with the crowning of the queen.

Louis Frederickson, chairman of the committee to select a queen and her court, announced plans for this important event. It is proposed this year to make the contest countywide, open to all young ladies from 17 to 21 years of age inclusive. An appropriation of $100 for prizes was voted. Further details regarding this feature will be announced later, along with a coupon to be printed in the Times-Mirror, for entering contestants.

It was reported that the Harry Summers orchestra will be available for both the variety show and dance, at no cost to the committee.

John Haggerty reported that the Ministerial Association has been asked to sponsor the vespers services on the evening of July 2nd, and has already launched plans for this event.

Jack Barr, co-chairman of the committee in charge of the drum corps competition, reported that invitations have been mailed to scores of units in New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and prospects are that Warren will witness the greatest competition ever presented in this section. All drum corps competing at Memorial Field, will appear in the parade.

John Newmaker and Ken Patchen, the committee in charge, is preparing to solicit entries for floats in the parade. A coupon is to be printed within the next two weeks for the convenience of business places, industries and organizations that wish to compete for the prizes.

It was revealed that "Fox Hole Inn" will be operated at War Memorial Field on the afternoon of the Fourth in charge of the Warren Field & Stream Club.

Many of the details discussed at length during the meeting will be worked out during the next couple of weeks, when complete information will be provided.

The next meeting of the committee will be held Tuesday evening, June 6th.

NAMED DELEGATE TO LUTHERAN CONVENTION

Ivan S. Brumagim, active lay worker in First Lutheran church, has been elected one of about 40 delegates who will represent the Pittsburgh Synod at the convention of the United Lutheran church in America, to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, in October. The elections, both lay and clerical delegates, was one of the important items coming before the 108th annual convention of the Synod currently in session at Greensburg.

Research Scientist In Large Hospital In Philadelphia Is Placed Under Arrest By F.B.I.

Philadelphia, May 24—(P)—A 39-year old Philadelphia research chemist of Russian extraction is held today in $100,000 bail, charged with receiving atomic bomb secrets from Dr. Klaus Fuchs and turning them over to Soviet Russia.

Dr. Fuchs is the former top British atomic scientist serving 14 years for passing atom secrets to Russia.

Arrest of Harry Gold, senior bio-chemist in one of Philadelphia's largest hospitals for the last two years, was announced in Washington last night by Attorney General McGrath and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

A few minutes later in the Philadelphia chambers of Federal Judge James P. McGraney, the short, pudgy Gold was given a 15-minute hearing and hustled off to Philadelphia's Moyamensing prison in lieu of bail.

Gold's work at Philadelphia General Hospital was on federally-financed heart research. Judge McGraney set June 12 at 10 a. m. for a further hearing. The time of his arrest was not disclosed.

The formal information, sworn to by FBI agent before U. S. Commissioner Marvin C. Epstein, charged that Gold and another person, identified as "Gold and John Doe," the defendants herein, did in time of war, agree among themselves and with certain other persons to receive from one Emil Julius Klaus Fuchs documents, writings, sketches, notes and information relating to the national defense and with intent and reason to believe that it was to be used to the injury of the United States and to the advantage of a foreign nation, to wit the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

The name "John Doe" often is used in legal matters to refer to a person or persons whose identity is not to be disclosed at the time, or is not known. The information related that "John Doe" was at the time "a representative office, agent and employee of a foreign government, to wit the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics."

In pursuance of the agreement made "on or about Jan. 1, 1944 and continuously thereafter up to and including the date hereof," the information said, "the defendants Harry Gold and John Doe (during the month of September, 1945, did meet and confer together in the vicinity of Jackson Heights, Long Island (N. Y.)."

The FBI announcement in Washington last night did not trace Gold's residence or occupation in the war years of 1942-45. The FBI here declined to elaborate, referring questions to the Washington office.

Gold's neighbors in a quiet residential section of north east Philadelphia said they believed the family had lived there about five years.

The jurist told Gold during the hastily called meeting that he did not have to speak without benefit of counsel.

And Gold spoke only twice. He admitted he was the Gold named in the warrant and requested permission to telephone a brother in Philadelphia to obtain counsel. Judge McGraney granted the request.

Later the brother, Joseph, told reporters he had received a call (Turn to Page Eight)

Check of Members in House Indicates Vote on Rent Controls Will Be Close

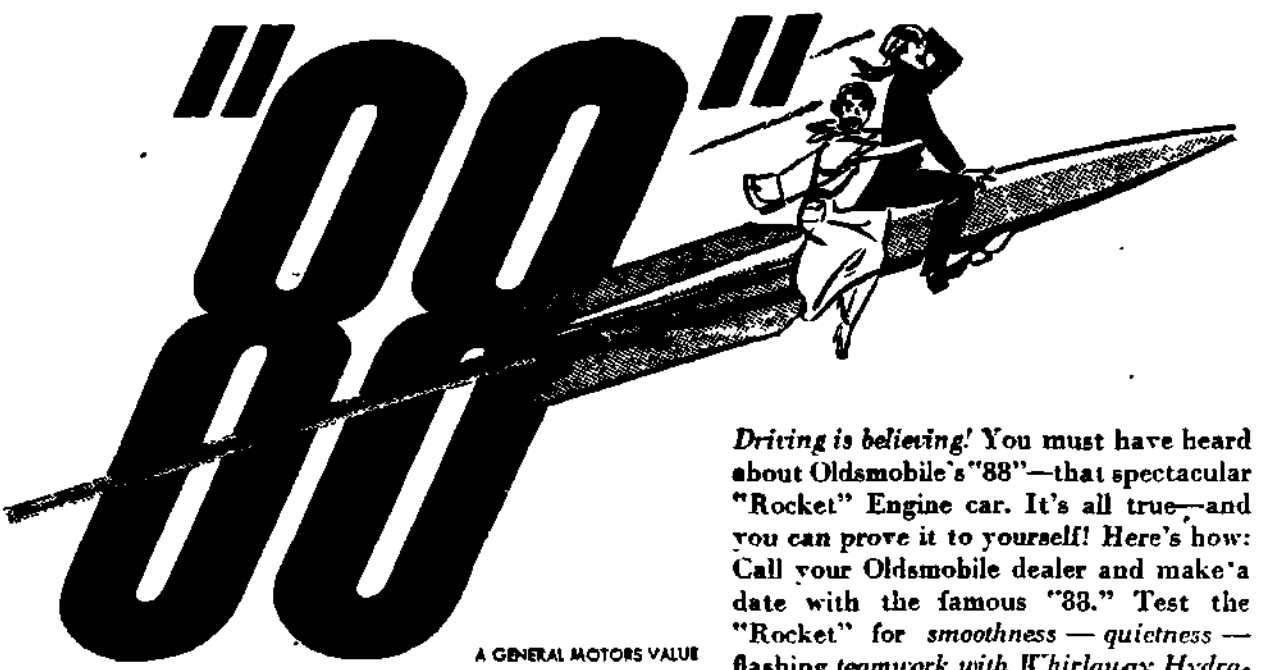

Washington, May 24—(P)—Some top administration Democrats doubt that federal rent bill will be defeated. A vote may not come until mid-June.

The banking committee approved 13 to 4 last Thursday the measure providing a one-year local-option continuation of federal rent powers beyond the June 30 expiration date. It says that rent ceilings will be lifted automatically December 31 in all localities where the governing body or the citizens do not vote to continue the controls to June 30, 1951.

This measure has no effect on rent control laws enacted by state legislatures. It deals only with federal controls.

CAR RECOVERED
A 1947 Plymouth two-door sedan, stolen from Port Allegany yesterday, was recovered by state police of the Warren barracks before the owner knew it was gone. The owner is Oscar Larson, an employee of the Pittsburgh-Corning Glass Company there. Mr. Larson parked his car at the plant parking lot yesterday morning about 7 o'clock and did not discover it was gone until about 3 p. m. Police found the car on Route 59 in Kinzua township about 2 p. m. yesterday. The left front fender and grill of the car were damaged, and it was mired along the berm of the road. Police surmise that the thief was afraid to call a wrecker, and abandoned the vehicle. Mr. Larson came here last night and claimed his property.

NEW COLLEGE HEAD

Dr. Arthur P. Coleman, an avowed hater of Communism, will become president of Alliance College at Cambridge Springs June 1. Dr. Coleman resigned his job at Columbia University because of a $30,000 grant to the institution by the Communist-dominated Polish government. He will succeed John A. Jabus, who has been acting president since the resignation of John J. Kolasa.

RECORD CLASS

Grove City College will mark the turn of the half-century with the graduation of the largest class in the 74-year history of the college. A total of 396 men and women will receive their diplomas on Saturday, June 10, in exercises to be held in the stadium. In the procession will be some 210 veterans who represent the last large group of men and women who upon returning from the service entered the college to work for their baccalaureate degree. Forty students will be graduated with honors.

ELKS DISTRICT MEET

Notices have been received in Warren of the meeting of the Pennsylvania North District Elks Association to be held at the summer home of Clearfield Lodge No. 540 Sunday, June 4. The program provides for a meeting of exalted rulers, secretaries and district deputies at 2:15; session of the advisory board at 2:30, followed by the business meeting of the district at three. There will be a dinner for Elks and their ladies after the afternoon sessions. James Yuengert, is president; A. G. Folke, treasurer; Vere Smyers, vice president, and Russell C. Parsons, secretary.

ASSISTANCE FRAUDS

During the first four months of this year 88 Pennsylvanians were convicted of fraudulently receiving public assistance, according to a report from the Department of Public Assistance today. This compares with 60 in 1949. These people had received public assistance grants for which they were not eligible by concealing information, misrepresenting facts, or failing to report changes in their circumstances which would affect eligibility. The amount of assistance fraudulently received by these 88 cases totaled $59,469, or an average of $675 per case. During the four-month period, 323 complaints were filed with the county courts, but in many instances settlement was reached before the case came to trial.

GADGETS FOR RELAXING

Stop yawning from spring fever and consider the art of relaxing, advises Sam Dawson, Associated Press feature writer in New York, who offers these suggestions:

Business brains have burned the midnight oil to think up ways of lulling you to sleep. Some people can get to sleep simply by thinking about the amount of work there is to be done. But others make work out of relaxing.

They blame their sleeplessness on the neighbors, their wives or their offspring. And the next day the hired hands at the office or the mill have a rough time.

Consider a few of the wonders of science and the ingenuity of industry, as viewed through the ads, aimed at relaxing you with gadgets.

There's the "modern escape bed", which the Lewis & Conger Sleep Shop of New York peddles at around $600. It is "equipped with automatic control panel for remote control of phonograph, television; for regulating temperature, humidity, and breezes; for instant access to favorite literature, beverages and snacks; for easing the insomniac tension and promoting deep restful sleep."

If you don't want to go whole hog on this business all at once, you can approach the gadgetry piecemeal. Here are a few simpler ones:

The "Lullapine", an electrical gadget that "hums a constant drowsing tone and dispels relaxing pine fragrance." Or the "slumber bath", a concoction to be added to your tub. Or the "pulsating relaxer" an electric oscillating unit to be slipped under the mattress. No matter what you think, the ad says it "sends gentle pulsations that ease the tension."

There are the "pendulation plaque", depicting a gaping geyser, "an irresistible yawn-inducer"; and the metronomic holler "with rhythmic flashing glow-light and repetitive, rhythmic lulling tone."

If you aren't worn out by now, try reading yourself to sleep, using a non-skid prop-pillow, a floor reading stand that holds a book "securely in every conceivable position", and a robot cigarette holder which thwarts your tendency to set the bed afire.

The "lullaby radio-bed lamp" combines radio reception with restful light—and some radio comedian's program will likely do the trick. Or try a set of "polite neighbor league pleas", eight verses exhorting the unthinking to curb such classical neighborhood noises as radios and pets. If your pate is thinly thatched, there's a "Car-nan head-warmer" which comes with adjustable bands in blue.

On the other hand, another ad recognizes that some people fall asleep too easily—for example, just when the wife is in the midst of the exciting account of what went on at the bridge club today—and it reads: "Does hubby fall asleep too readily or at the wrong time? Try the no-doze pellets of concentrated caffeine. They stimulate wakefulness when required, safe and effective."

About the only thing the ads don't mention in the way of wooing the goddess of relaxation is this: Remember? A nice grassy bank under an apple tree in full bloom, and the fish biting—now—and—then.

PRAYERS FOR PEACE

According to an Associated Press dispatch to the Times-Mirror from Washington, President Truman asks the American people to observe Memorial Day "as a day of prayer for permanent peace."

In a proclamation, he designates the hour beginning at 11 a. m. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, May 30, "as a period in which all our people may unite in prayer, each in accordance with his own religious faith, for Divine aid in bringing enduring peace to a troubled world."

The president acted under a congressional resolution which called for Memorial Day to be observed both by tributes to the heroic dead and by nation-wide prayer for peace.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Rep. Michener (R-Mich.) sponsored the resolution, picking up a suggestion from Carl M. Saunders, editor of The Jackson (Mich.) Citizen Patriot.

Saunders received a Pulitzer prize for an editorial urging designation of Memorial Day to pray for peace.

The Sign of the West

Here And There

Commencement exercises were held earlier in the spring 64 years ago than they are in this day and age, according to the Warren Ledger. May 7, 1886, the Ledger carried the following article about the closing of the Warren Union School: "The closing exercises of the public schools will be held Thursday and Friday evenings, the last of May. The academic department is now full to overflowing, having eighty names on its rolls. The graduating class, numbering fourteen, are: John H. Ensworth, Harriet Borchers, Blanche E. Campbell, Ida E. Donovan, Mary N. Davis, Margaret A. Day, Imogene Dinsmoor, Josephine L. Lacy, Alice G. Magee, Laura A. Mead, Caroline E. Olson, Helen W. Pierce, Lena M. Ridel-sperger and Antoinette D. Snyder. If these all get safely landed in the alumni association, they will carry its membership up to seventy-five. The class sermon is to be delivered at the Presbyterian church, Sunday evening, May 23, by Rev. W. A. Rankin. At the exhibition a prominent feature this year will be a contest for a prize in declamation by six young men of the class of '87, as follows—Vergil Boyer, John Danforth, Loten Dinsmoor, Delbert Lewis, George Lott and Charles Robinson."

Here are a few "Short Takes" as they come to us periodically through Editor and Publisher. You might pick up some miscues in the Times-Mirror, but this is a reminder that we really are not in a class by ourselves. To prove it we give you:

Headline in Norfolk (Va.) Ledger-Dispatch: "Peterson Gets Higher Phone Post." Lead to a story from Philadelphia: "The golden drug aureomycin, a potent germ killer, may prove a boon to mankind by speeding the growth of under-nourished children and boosting the world's meat supply."

From the Wilmington, N. C., Sunday News-Star: "Dr. Marks, with his wife and three children, left 'civilized' Wilmington approximately two years ago to devote the remainder of his life to missionary work in the Congo."

Classified Ad in Waltham, Mass., News-Tribune: "Large furnished room on bathroom floor."

From Eufaula, Ala., comes this gem: "A mother today gave birth to a four-room, unpainted house set back in a tenant farmer's cotton field."

Headline in Cedar Rapids, Ia., Gazette: "Fortune in Diamonds Left by Widow Hidden in Trunk."

According to the Freeman, S. D., Courier "the bride wore a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which ended in a joint over her head."

From a Fullerton, Calif., paper we find that "Anna . . . is very sick at her home."

This And That: "Know Your Visiting Nurse Week Service" is being observed throughout the nation this week. It is a time when Visiting Nurses are supposed to acquaint residents with their duties, and how they can help them meet many of their problems during illness, and can teach them to apply the rules of health that frequently prevent sickness.

Sergeant Wire Glass Corp., after being shut down since January, has resumed operations in manufacturing of rolled wire glass. . . . The Kane War Memorial in Evergreen Park will be ready for dedication Tuesday, May 30, Memorial Day, when a program will be presented at the unveiling. Work has been started on the Glenwood Park Baseball field which is to be a memorial to the 1500 men and women who served in the Armed Forces during World War Two from Kane and vicinity. . . . Warren's athletic fields were well populated Monday evening, with the opening of the Sunset Baseball League and several softball games being played. A tour during the early hours of the evening showed good-sized crowds at War Memorial Field, King Field, The State Hospital diamond, along with the fact that several hardball and softball games were in progress at Beaty Field. . . . Fifteen entries have been received for the Bradford Old Home Week beard-raising contest, according to latest reports. . . . Corry is planning an American Legion rally June 17th. Dale Waterhouse, general chairman, has announced that six marching units have already been entered in the parade. . . . State Senator Leroy E. Chapman, of this city, candidate (unopposed) for the Republican nomination for the Venango-Warren district, has filed an affidavit with election boards in both Warren and Venango counties, showing pre-primary campaign expenses amounted to less than $150. . . . A total of 7,900 Veterans of Foreign Wars Buddy Poppies were sold in Warren last Friday and Saturday. The amount raised through the sale (Turn to Page Six)

Conservatism versus liberalism is the issue in California. Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, seeking the Democratic senatorial nomination, is an all-out liberal. Manchester Boddy, publisher of the Los Angeles News, who is opposing her, has advocated many progressive policies, but is trying to rally the conservative strength of the Democratic party behind him. Whoever wins in this primary race will face Rep. Richard M. Nixon, Republican conservative.

It is the main issue in North Carolina, where liberal Democratic Senator Frank M. Graham is fighting to retain his seat against divided opposition. Willis Smith is a lawyer who is considered conservative, while ex-Senator Robert Reynolds is ultra-conservative.

This struggle for a political philosophy becomes apparent not only from trying to digest the 50 speeches made by President Truman on his swing through the northwest. It is also obvious from the bulletins put out by the Republican National Committee from day to day, during the President's tour, and from the formal counter-blast made by Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft.

SENATOR TAFT says he has never met any of the "greedy, selfish reactionaries" that President Truman is always talking about. Taft really considers himself a progressive. He takes credit for having sponsored the public housing and hospital construction programs passed by the 81st Congress.

Many of the things Taft says he stands for, the Democratic liberals can also say they support. For instance: An all-powerful U. S. armed force . . . liberty, freedom of speech, a proper minimum wage, protection of farm prices . . . better education, health, housing, security, elimination of hardship and poverty.

But Senator Taft claims there is a difference in his approach to these things. He wants them only if they can be obtained by avoiding—in every case except public utilities—"the deadening regulation of government bureaus attempting to fix prices, practices, and quotas in free industries."

Liberals may properly object to this Taft analysis of Truman's methods and of what the President wants for the country. Taft indulges in considerable exaggeration. Truman does the same thing in talking about the reactionaries. That's politics and only to be expected, if you know how to take it.

In no sense, however, can Truman be called a conservative. His speeches all through the west were booster stuff. He advocated everything being bigger and better—dams, crops, programs, benefits, income.

Wife Must Keep Up With Man
As He Climbs Toward Success

MEMO to the wife whose husband is headed for success: If you want to be at his side when he reaches the top, the way to make sure you will be is to climb every step of the ladder with him.

You are tagging behind already if:

You refuse to take on the added social responsibilities that fall on you as a result of your husband's increasing importance in his career. You keep reminding him of the "good old days" when he had more time for you and the children, instead of trying to make the time he does have at home as enjoyable as possible for the whole family.

You resist any changes in your way of living instead of seeing to it that his home and the way it is run keep pace with his increasingly important place in life.

You are critical of the new friends he makes, instead of deciding that you will try to make them your friends, too.

DON'T RESENT HIS INDEPENDENCE

ALSO, you're not keeping pace with him if:

You resent his success, because it may make him less dependent on you than he was when he was just starting out in his career.

You don't think it is necessary for you to be as careful of your dress and grooming as it is for him to "look successful."

You show less interest in his career than you did when he was at the bottom of the ladder.

You expect as much help from him around the house as you did when his job responsibilities were a much lighter load and his income wouldn't permit paying a workman to do a job he could do for you.

You are making no effort to become more skillful as a hostess or more pleasing as a guest.

You are completely dependent on your husband for your enjoyment of life, and don't know what to do with yourself if you have to spend an occasional evening alone.

Student Papers For Past Ninety Years
Displayed at State

State College—Student publications of the past 90 years compose an exhibit that has been arranged by the Library at the Pennsylvania State College.

The exhibit includes the copy of the first publication, written in England, and published by the Washington Agricultural Literary Society. It is dated September 1, 1859.

The publication was printed the following year and not desiring to be outdone, the Cresson Literary Society also inaugurated a publication titled The Student Miscellany. An editorial in The Student Miscellany of February 1887, charged that a lack of ambition was the reason Penn State had no student newspaper.

A copy of a proposed plan for newspaper, which, with certain exceptions, was approved by the college faculty on March 7, 1887, exhibited. It led to the establishment of The Free Lance in April, 1887.

The exhibit also includes other student publications, among them, The Lemon, published anonymously as "squirts" during the period 1906 to 1908. History of LeVie, the senior class annual, is traced from the first volume in 1889 to the 1950 edition.

Literary magazines present articles written by former students who since have become well-known in the profession of writing while Froth, the humor magazine, also presents the work of former students now well-known. One poem exhibited is the rhyme, "Tobacco is a Dirty Weed," written in 1915 by G. L. Hemminger and now widely quoted.

For GOOD-ness Sake

By Betty Rice

Eligibility requirements for the donation of blood on June 14, July 12, and August 9, when the American Red Cross Blood-mobile will visit Warren, are outlined by Howard Lauffenberger, chairman of the blood committee of the Warren County Red Cross chapter. In this evening's Times-Mirror blood donors will find pledge cards to be filled in and returned as quickly as possible to the local chapter.

Generally speaking, Mr. Lauffenberger states that any healthy man and woman between the ages of 18 and 60 could donate a pint of blood. Donors should weigh at least 110 pounds and should have been in good health prior to the donation. Minors can donate only when written permission has been obtained from parents or guardians.

The local blood program has been approved by the Warren County Medical Society, the Warren General Hospital and the Department of Health. In discussing some of the points which should be born in mind, physicians have recommended that donors should drink fruit juices and eat nothing for at least four hours before the donation. They especially warn against eating heavy breakfasts including eggs, fats, cream, honey or pancakes.

Immediately after the donation, the Red Cross Canteen Service will serve refreshments consisting of coffee, toast, sandwiches and fruit juice. Red Cross officials do not advise a heavy meal immediately after donation.

If you have any doubt as to the advisability of being a blood donor, ask your family doctor.

It takes about 45 minutes to give a pint of blood, and there are no harmful after-effects. Physicians and nurses are in attendance at all times to collect the blood. Donations will be scheduled at 10 minute intervals. NOW... who not mail in your Times-Mirror pledge card?

In effect at the present time a Speakers' Bureau under the direction of A. C. Flick, Jr., a representative group of men and women have offered their services as speakers on behalf of this important Blood Program. Any club or organization desiring such a speaker may make arrangements by calling Red Cross Headquarters, phone Warren 2928. Also in connection with the Speakers' Bureau are two excellent films, "Red Cross" and "Blood Donors," and Red Cross will furnish a licensed operator for those who desire to see these pictures. The films are available until June 15. There are 41 speakers trained through Red Cross for the job.

It was decided by the group to have a moonlight hike Monday night, May 29, for the social meeting of the month. Other items of discussion centered around the district fall meeting, the conference Luther League Camp to be held at Colgate in August, and the Lutheran Bible Camp at Lake Chautauqua.

Otteson, evangelist at the series of Crusade for Christ services being held this week at Bethlehem Covenant Church, will speak on the subject, "The Home, the Heart of America." A special invitation is extended to all parents to be present to hear this practical message.

Last evening's message was on the subject of "Down-to-earth Christianity," in which Mr. Otteson pointed out that "being a Christian is a most practical experience. It is a giving of ourselves to Christ, who gave Himself for us."

Tonight's service begins at 7:30 p. m., when the guest soloist will be Robert Johnson, Sugar Grove. On Saturday evening, a special service for youth is planned, with the Youth for Christ of Warren county sharing in the program.

has not been compiled yet. Sixth grade pupils in East Street school, likely to be advanced into Beatty this fall, were guests of the ETA at the Beatty cafeteria Tuesday noon for lunch, later heard a talk by Principal H. D. Harris and toured the building. Rumor has it that the Johnny J. Jones Exposition may visit Warren this summer without a local sponsor. Today we mourn the passing of Roy Miller, a congenial and conscientious member of the Times-Mirror composing room staff for many years, who passed away Tuesday evening at the hospital following a lingering illness.

Full-Scale Inquiry into All Phases Of Oil Industry Sought

Washington, May 24.—(AP)—A full-scale investigation into all phases of the oil industry with a view of establishing a national petroleum policy and insuring fair prices to consumers was urged today by Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.).

Cannon testified before a house commerce subcommittee in behalf of his resolution asking $250,000 for such an inquiry by the Federal Trade Commission.

Meanwhile, representatives of the independent petroleum and coal industries told senators that "excessive" oil imports are endangering the security and economy of the United States.

H. B. Fell of Ardmore, Okla., and L. Ebersole Gaines of Mt. Hope, W. Va., testified before a senate labor subcommittee. They urged that congress move immediately to brake the flow of foreign oil into this country. They suggested either an increase in tariffs or a quota system.

Fell is executive vice president of the independent petroleum association of America. Gaines is president of the New River Co., a bituminous coal producer.

The senate subcommittee is studying causes of increased unemployment in the coal, oil, silver, zinc, lead and railroad industries.

Strategists Talk Plans for Penn'a Election Campaign

Washington — (AP)—Pennsylvania Republicans predicted party unity and an increase of 10 House seats in the fall election, while a Democratic party official forecast invasion of the state by President Truman on behalf of Senator Francis J. Myers.

A Democratic campaign strategist, speaking in the absence of National Chairman William Boyle, said the Democrats will wage an "elect Myers" not a "stop Duff" campaign for the Senate seat. "We are naturally going to do everything we can to help Myers," he said. "We are going to fight (Governor James H.) Duff and it is practically certain the President will go in there." Pennsylvania Republicans nominated Duff to run against Myers.

The President's trip to Pennsylvania, if it materializes, may link with a helping-hand jaunt to Illinois, where Democratic Majority Leader Senator Scott Lucas is fighting for re-election.

Rep. Richard M. Simpson, dean of Pennsylvania House Republicans, predicted the 10-seat Republican gain. He told a reporter he based the forecast "on the fact that all present members were nominated, the strength of the other Republican nominees, and the unusual interest shown in the primary" of Tuesday.

Pennsylvania House Republicans showed no evidence of a split in their ranks in the bitter primary struggle between Duff and the Republican faction headed by former U. S. Senator Joseph R. Grundy.

Naval Enlistments Will Help Expand Defense Activities

Announcement was made today that the Navy will enlist more men this spring and summer than at any other time since World War II. The new men will be used to help the Navy expand its defense activities.

Chief Petty Officer William A. Sawyer, who is in charge of the Navy Recruiting office in the Jamestown post office, said most of the new men will enter a trade school after they complete 12 weeks of basic training at the Great Lakes Training Station in Illinois.

Those who enter the service before they finish high school will be able to complete their studies through correspondence courses. Physical requirements also have been lowered, and many who could not previously qualify because of poor teeth will be accepted under the new requirements.

The Navy recruiter will be at the Warren post office to interview prospective enlistees each Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Dragon Dedicated To Member of the High School Staff

Congratulations are in order for the members of the Warren High School Dragon Class for the fine work they have done in bringing out the 1950 edition of the "Dragon", which was distributed to students yesterday afternoon.

Leslie Israel, editor, and the following members of the staff are worthy of much admiration for the cleverness and arrangement of the publication; business and circulation manager, Timothy Mullhaupt; photographic editor, David Harrington; editorial staff, Diantha Chesnut, Grace Fisher, Margaret Henderson, Mary Hutchings, Donna Lane, Ann Lesser, Eugenia Price, and Richard Updegraff; artist, Clyde Smith; photographic assistant, Johan Stohl, typists, Marilyn Dietrich, Collette Mangus, and Jeanne Marlett; faculty advisers, Christine Hurd, Floyd W. Bathurst.

The book follows the tale of Li'l Dragon, telling how he started in the grades and relating all his high school experiences.

Appreciation is expressed to the people of Warren and vicinity for their whole-hearted support.

The dedication of the 1950 issue is made to Edward J. Zuk, whose untiring help to his pupils has made him one of the most respected members of the Warren High School faculty. It is largely due to Mr. Zuk's efforts and guidance that the German Club has become one of the best organized and most active of the school groups. His cheery smile and warm sincerity will be a bright memory shared by all Warren alumni who have had the privilege of knowing him.

A page is devoted to the memory of David Dean Fowler, "whose friendliness and politeness, which made him so well-liked, will always be an indelible memory of the class of 1950."

As one looks over the rest of the tale, he can see the trials and tribulations Li'l Dragon had with the administration, students, activities, dramatics, languages, athletics, and superlatives.

"But all good things must come to an end, so Li'l Dragon folded up his class calendar, put on his cap and gown, retired from school life, and lived happily ever after."

Brotherhoods Delay Calling of Strike

Cleveland, May 24—(P)—Four railroad operating brotherhoods have postponed until June 10 a strike they had set for tomorrow against the New York Central Railroad lines east of Buffalo.

The date was changed at the request of the National Railway Mediation Board, said Carl J. Goff, assistant president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Other unions involved are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Goff said the unions had decided yesterday to strike at 6 a. m. Thursday, but a few hours later accepted a mediation board plea for further attempts at settlement.

"Some 200 miscellaneous grievances—many of them individual cases—are involved," Goff said. Some of the cases stem from differences between the union and the carrier over interpretation of railroad adjustment board awards, he added.

Taylor to Continue As State Chairman

Harrisburg, May 24—(P)—State Sen. M. Harvey Taylor says he will be "drafted" to serve another two years as Pennsylvania's Republican chairman.

The Harrisburg Patriot said last night that Taylor told a reporter that "some of the powers that be" in the party insisted that I keep the state chairmanship for another two years."

Taylor previously had announced he would give up the state chairmanship of the GOP.

The state senator did not identify the men to whom he referred as "the powers that be," but it was learned that he had lunch yesterday with Gov. James H. Duff and John S. Fine.

New officers of the Republican state committee will be elected when the 113-member group meets in Philadelphia on June 10.

The Harrisburg legislator originally was named state chairman in 1934. He was reelected in 1936 and resigned in 1937. In 1942, he was elected again and has served continuously for the past eight years.

Charter Night Set For Farrah Grotto

Announcement was made today that the Farrah Grotto of Warren will receive its charter in ceremonies on Tuesday, June 13. The date also marks the 80th anniversary of the forming of the Grotto, which now has units throughout the United States and Canada.

The chartering of the local Grotto will climax a full year of organization work. Tentative plans call for a charter ceremony at the Grotto rooms in Liberty street at 7 p. m., on June 13, after which there will be a dance for members and visiting dignitaries at the Woman's Club.

from Harry. Joseph said his older brother had been employed at the Philadelphia General Hospital as a civil service senior bio-chemist.

In announcing the arrest, McGrath said the charges were based on information supplied by Dr. Fuchs, who was arrested in February and pleaded guilty March 1.

In London two FBI agents questioned Dr. Fuchs today for the third time, trying to trace the lines of the Soviets' atom espionage in America. They had quizzed him first on Saturday and again yesterday.

An American official described the imprisoned British scientist as "most cooperative" with the FBI officials. He said the agents will continue questioning Fuchs daily until the investigation is completed.

In London, it was disclosed two FBI agents questioned Dr. Fuchs last Saturday and again yesterday.

Selective Service Extension Is Considered By House chiefs that continuation of selective service is essential for the duration of the cold war.

With no debate, the house yesterday rammed through a pair of bills authorizing nearly a billion dollars worth of new defense spending for the fiscal year starting July 1.

One of the measures authorizes the navy to spend $50,000,000 on a modernization and construction program, and to start work on an experimental atomic-powered submarine.

The program also contemplates construction of a guided-missiles ship, 50,000 tons of new vessels, and conversion of up to 200,000 tons of existing ships.

Carroll Fowler and the grade work being done by Howard Andersen. He spoke, particularly, of his pleasure in Mr. Fowler's return to Warren, remarking, "anyone who heard his spring concert here last week must realize that he is tops."

While Mr. Andersen's work is not too apparent on the surface, he explained, the all-grade festival recently given at Beatty is a splendid example of the work being done under his direction. Mr. Summers also outlined music class plans for next term and the plans he has made for the annual summer band school.

Mr. Conaway indicated that he would call a meeting of his board in the near future to outline a program of activities.

Allied Jeeps Patrol Main Road Link To Western Germany

Berlin, May 24—(P)—A fleet of 26 American, British and French military police jeeps today began an intensified patrol of Berlin main road link with the west, the 100-mile superhighway through the Russian zone.

The patrol was part of a "preliminary alert" to which 8,000 Allied troops and 13,000 West Berlin police were ordered as more and more young Communists headed for East Berlin's rally of Red youth this weekend.

Allied-controlled forces will go on a "full alert" Saturday when the final contingent of 500,000 young Communist demonstrators from the Soviet zone is expected in the eastern sector of the city. The east German Communist government has warned that regular traffic on the autobahn will be subject to a 36-mile detour from tomorrow on to allow restricted movement of Communist youth convoys.

SMOKY JOE
By W. F. BRAGG

Chapter 11

WHAT'S the matter with my opinion?" Joe rapped out.

"This, Joe. Some weeks before the murder of Chris Elven, your father stuck both his big feet into plenty of trouble. Strange that Whisperin' Johnson didn't mention it. Legal difficulties."

"Whisperin' isn't up on law stuff. Nor me."

"You should be. Listen."

Then the judge explained that old Munro had discovered an excellent dam and reservoir site near the cabin on Antelope. He had decided to organize a ditch company, advertise good farm land, bring in settlers. But he had required more cash than he had in his own bank account to carry on the promotion.

"Get to the point, judge," Joe said impatiently. "What's all this ditch and dam stuff got to do with my opinion to Connie Hale?"

"Cool off, Joe. Before the man who put up cash to back your father's land scheme would make the loan, he asked for big security. So your father signed over a power of attorney on all his rangeland to this man who backed him. And so long as your father doesn't show up to change that power of attorney, or is legally shown to be dead and you his heir, the man who holds that power of attorney controls all rights to Munro land."

Joe slumped down in his seat. A baffled anger filled him. Crossed up by the law itself. What would Connie think of him when she discovered the option was no good? He muttered as much to the judge. The latter smiled wearily. "She won't hold it against you," he consoled Joe. "She'll know you just made a mistake."

"I'm makin' too many mistakes around Connie," groaned Joe. He stood up and told the judge he was heading for Connie to warn her of the illegal option and the rustler plot.

A door that opened into gambling rooms from the bar swung open and Pack Rogan stepped out leisurely. He halted abruptly at sight of Joe.

Joe spoke to the judge. "A month's pay against ten cents that there stands the man who holds that power of attorney." And he slid his hand toward his gun.

Judge Boots, rising hastily, put his hand on Joe's gun arm as Rogan approached. "Easy," he whispered. "Remember, you're within his legal rights to require that power of attorney from your father."

"We had trouble this morning up on Antelope. Pack Rogan's standin' in my road."

"You young fool. You can't shoot him down without cause."

Rogan, making no move to draw a gun on Joe, moved toward them gracefully.

Shaking off the judge's restraining hand, Joe stepped away from the table to confront Rogan. But the latter, smiling genially, nodded to the judge, then eyed Joe smiling and waiting with hand outstretched.

"That," Joe said deliberately, "is what I was afraid of."

Rogan's smile vanished. His hand dropped to his side. The judge said hurriedly, "Now, gentz, but the admonition was not required. Rogan smiled again. The dangerous moment had passed.

THE door to the theater swung open. "Last call for the show, gentz!" bawled the announcer.

Rogan smiled at Joe and slapped the judge on the shoulder. "Let's take it in," he said. "Do you got this Nevada Kate is one high kicker. And she has six frisky gals from Frisco with her. Come as my guests. You should see her doin' that little number from Gay Paree."

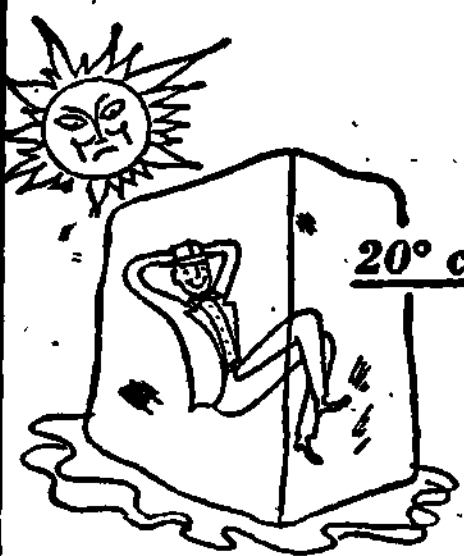

The big smoky stage hall was thronged with guests and male entertainers. Other booths and tables were on the balcony which ran around the rear and side walls.

A bouncer, who looked large as a large bull in his tight blue suit, led the way to the rear stairs to the balcony, guided them along one wall toward the glowing footlights, and finally pulled aside a curtain on a booth that directly overlooked the stage. With a bow, he ushered the three men inside. They took seats around the table. Pack said proudly to his guests, "We've doubled our business since Kate and her gals went on the night bill. Nothing like good-lookin' women to run up profits. Don't blame the boys for wantin' her."

Joe could see Kate standing in the small dark space. A tall man appeared suddenly at her side and put his arm familiarly around her slim waist. Impatiently, she tried to brush him aside, but he grinned and merely tightened his arm.

The man was Pecos Shay.

Bloodmobile From Center In Buffalo To Visit Warren Wednesday, June 14

Citizens of Warren county will soon enjoy the benefits of a constant supply of whole blood, plasma, and other blood derivatives, made possible through the local Red Cross Chapter's participation in the Red Cross National Blood Program. A bloodmobile from the fixed center at Buffalo, N. Y., will visit Warren June 14 for a one-day collection of blood, according to Howard Lauffenberger, Blood Program chairman.

Under the Red Cross National Blood Program, blood is to be given voluntarily by local donors during scheduled visits of a mobile unit traveling out of Buffalo, where a peacetime Red Cross Blood Center has been opened.

Blood thus collected will be processed in the laboratory of the fixed center and returned to Warren for use in saving lives and preventing needless suffering.

Dr. R. E. Lowe, chairman of the Medical Advisory Committee of the Warren County Red Cross Chapter, stresses the need for an adequate supply of blood, plasma and other derivatives. "The National Blood Program of the American Red Cross is one of the most important peacetime programs ever inaugurated by the organization," he says. "It became common knowledge during the war that blood could and did save thousands of lives. Since the war medical science, through research, has discovered additional remedial benefits provided by blood derivatives.

"Thousands of Americans need blood transfusions every year. Many times the cost for blood is prohibitive to most families and frequently rare types are unobtainable. The Red Cross National Blood Program provides this needed blood at no cost to the patient. However, there may be the customary laboratory charge by the hospital and the professional fee of the physician for his services—but the blood, itself, is free.

"Blood obtained from donors in Warren will be returned to meet community needs first of all. Some of the blood will be made into plasma for use throughout the nation in time of disaster and in locations which do not have the facilities, as yet, for the National Blood Program. If Warren county people give enough blood to meet the monthly quota, Warren people will have all the blood needed, when they need it. The local quota established for Warren county is 100 pints of blood a month.

"A pledge card may be found in this evening's Times-Mirror and everyone is urged to clip it out, fill it in and mail it back as soon as possible."

Want to Save a Life?

TO GET BLOOD IN AN EMERGENCY... GIVE BLOOD AT YOUR LEISURE!

Make your pledge now and the Warren County Red Cross will call on you when your blood is needed. CHEAPER THAN ANY OTHER AUTOMATIC FUEL

FOR GAS WATER HEATING

✓ EVERY GALLON IS AT LEAST 50% CHEAPER

Records indicate that the average family of 3 or 4 persons whose use of hot water is about 1500 gallons per month pay more than twice as much when using other automatic fuels.

✓ SAME COST DAY OR NIGHT

You can use all of the hot water you want whenever you want it secure in the knowledge that it will not add to your cost. In fact, a penny's worth of Gas heats enough water for a shower. No other fuel offers such ready service at such trifling cost.

✓ FASTER RECOVERY

Gas is three times faster than any other all-automatic water heating fuel. Tests made with incoming water at winter temperatures over a two-hour period indicated that a 30-gallon gas fired tank delivered more hot water than a 60-gallon tank using another method. The recovery with gas was 25.2 gallons per hour, the second method showed recovery of only 8.2 gallons per hour. Here is inescapable proof of the superiority of Gas.

✓ EASILY INSTALLED

There is no necessity to place your new automatic Water Heater in the cellar. In appearance it is so modern, so smart and so clean you'll be proud to own it and place it right in the kitchen or utility room for everyone to see and admire.

okie Hurler Notches Shutout Line With Pirate Tradition

By The Associated Press
ing Bill MacDonald, rookie right-hander, fits right into Pittsburgh pitching tradition. In the 21-year-old native of Pa. Calif. first bonus player, the Pirate organization, shutout last night in his first league starting assignment, felled a Pittsburgh pattern Nick Maddox 43 years ago.

It was on Sept. 13, 1907 that Maddox became the first National League pitcher since 1900 to pitch a shutout in his big league debut. He blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-0, striking out 11.

MacDonald became the 19th National League to turn the trick—and the sixth to wear a Pittsburgh uniform. He joins such Pirate notables as Babe Adams (April 4, 1909), Wilbur Cooper (Sept. 9, 1912), Carmen Hill (Sept. 17, 1915) and Otis Swigart (Sept. 21, 1939).

The last National League pitcher to turn in a scoreless game in his big league bow was Don Newcombe. The Brooklyn right-hander did it May 22, 1949. A total of 27 American League pitchers have accomplished the feat.

MacDonald, who won 13 and lost 11 at New Orleans in the Southern Association last year, limited Philadelphia to three singles as the Pirates defeated the Phils, 6-0. A home run by Wally Westlake with the bases loaded in the eighth inning broke up a scoreless pitching duel between MacDonald and the Phil's Russ Meyer. MacDonald walked only one and fanned seven.

The defeat prevented the second-place Phils from gaining ground on the league-leading Dodgers, who dropped a 5-4 decision to the Chicago Cubs. Johnny Schmitz' fine clutch pitching and a pair of sixth inning homers by Andy Pafko and Roy Smalley won for the Cubs. Losing pitcher Ralph Branca was the victim of the four-baggers.

The seldom-winning Cincinnati Reds celebrated the 15th anniversary of the first night game in the major leagues by beating the Boston Braves, 6-2, behind the effective twirling of Willie Ramesell, former Brooklyn right-hander.

The Washington Senators, shut out with four hits through eight innings, broke loose with an eighth inning barrage in the ninth to whip the Detroit Tigers, 8-2.

Home runs by Gil Con and Eddie Yost, the latter's coming with two on, featured the attack against Fred Hutchinson and two would-be rescuers. Sid Hudson went all the way for the Nats.

The St. Louis Browns gained their third home triumph of the season, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-1. Al Widmar, who joined the Browns after the season started because of salary differences, won his first game with a neat four-hit effort.

Rain washed out the scheduled night game between the Cards and Giants in New York. The other clubs were not scheduled.

With Matthews Running Cubs Those Bad Deals Are Out

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The Cubs have picked themselves off the floor, lending an additional touch to what looks to be a four-way National League race between the Dodgers, Cardinals, Braves and Phillies.

And bright kids—and Wil Matthews—figure to keep the Chicago club on its pins.

Matthews, acquired from the Brooks in February, perhaps is the most valuable commodity a Wrigley has acquired since Philip K.'s pop popped up with spearman.

Branch Rickey will be first to tell you that the Bruins no longer will be notorious for bad deals. Not with Matthews the director of personnel and the farm system.

Further, Mahatma Rickey realizes that the superior young men with the north siders will be supplemented by a steady flow of talent from the chain stores.

Scout Matthews knows what he's looking for in ballplayers of a tender age, and where to find them.

Matthews, one-time American League outfielder, was Brother Rickey's trouble-shooter building and expanding the Cardinal empire.

When Operator Rickey moved to Ebbets Field in 1943, it is significant that he brought Matthews with him.

THE balance of power in the National League was transplanted from St. Louis to Brooklyn.

The Chicago infielders—Ward, Terwilliger, Smalley, Serena and Jackson—average 24 years of age.

The Cubs appear to have their double play combination for years in towering Roy Smalley and Wayne Terwilliger.

Frank Frisch believes he has a leader in Twig Terwilliger, who crashed the majors after one season in Triple A.

Manager Frisch has remarkable hurlers in left-handed Johnny Schmitz and right-handed Bob Rush. He should get considerably more pitching out of the right-handed Voiselle, Dubiel, Lade, Hiller and Klippstein and the southpaws, VanderMeer and Minner. Old Dutch Leonard is there for relief.

Frisch has established workmen in Phil Cavarretta, at home in the outfield or first base, and outfielders Andy Pafko and Hank Edwards. Hank Sauer manufactured 31 home runs and drove in 99 runs last trip. When 25-year-old Hal Jeffcoat broke his collar-bone, 23-year-old Bob Borkowski was recalled. He was the first right-hand hitter to win the Southern Association batting championship in a half-dozen campaigns—with .376.

HOT STOVE BASEBALL LEAGUE

Warren Chapter

Baseball bats and balls will blossom out on every playing field and vacant lot in the district this week.

Hot Stove leaders and team handlers met at the control room of the Municipal building last night to get their first issue of equipment for the big summer baseball program.

The Hot Stove League, which now has a registration of 750 boys, will operate this year on a 44-team basis. The Junior League (boys 15 to 18) has eight teams; the intermediate League (boys 12 to 15) has 15 teams; the Midget League (boys 12 to 12) has 13 squads; and the Bantam League (boys 8 to 10 years) has eight teams.

Opening date for the Junior League is Thursday, June 1, while the other three leagues will get started about June 9. Schedules will be announced later.

Meanwhile, most of the squads are practicing diligently for the opening of the league campaigns. However, there are a few spots where additional leadership is needed. Additional adult support is needed in the Ward 1-2-3 area, the upper Conewango District, North Warren and Pleasant township.

The league program has been greatly expanded this year to include Junior and Bantam Leagues, and also has spread its territorial limits to include squads from Youngsville, Clarendon and Ricketown.

Financial support for the league comes from team sponsor fees, donations by businesses, industries and individuals, and sale of adult Hot Stove memberships at a $1 minimum.

PONY LEAGUE ROUND-UP

By The Associated Press
The only PONY League club that has beaten all the other seven teams is Hamilton, currently in the runner-up spot.

Every team has met each of its rivals at least once in the season, which will be four weeks old Saturday.

League-leading Olean has licked all but Hamilton. Third-ranking Hornell and fourth-place Batavia have downed all but Olean.

The three games scheduled last night were washed out. They were Batavia at Olean, Hornell at Bradford and Lockport at Wellsville.

Tonight's schedule: Bradford at Hornell, Batavia at Olean and Jamestown at Hamilton.

By supporting the poppy program you assure the veterans that they are not "Forgotten Men."

About one fifth of U. S. shrimp is canned.

3 Games Slated To Play Tonight

Second round of Sunset Baseball League competition is slated for tonight, with three games on tap for 6:30 o'clock.

The schedule shows:

Hammond Iron at Suppa Studebaker, Youngsville field.

Conewango Twp. Merchants at Tiona, War Memorial field.

Sons of Italy at Warren Merchants, State Hospital field.

Sons of Italy, Suppa Studebakers and Warren Merchants were the winners in the league openers Monday.

Hammond Irons, who moved up into Sunset competition from the ranks of the junior circuit, gave the Sons of Italy a tough battle on Memorial Field before the more experienced West Siders were able to gain the edge.

Suppa's Studebaker, the Youngsville entry in the senior loop, splurged for five runs in the sixth frame to break up a tight ball game with the Conewango Township Merchants. Final score favored Suppa's, 5-2.

Tiona, holding its first team in Sunset League competition in several years, was virtually powerless against the Warren Merchants, who won the league crown last year under the name of Glendora Coffee. The Meres wound up on the top side of a big 28-6 score. It probably will take several weeks for the Tiona club to work the kinks out of their system.

Why Hudson, with exclusive recessed floor, is America's Safest Car!

Safety Engineering Magazine commends Hudson in an award as... "the leader in the cause of public safety through the design and construction of its motor cars."

ROAD CLEARANCE

HUDSON

An exclusive recessed floor ("step-down" design) results in America's lowest center of gravity (and full road clearance) for road-hugging stability and the ease of control that helps prevent accidents. Passengers ride down within a rugged foundation frame. Box-section steel girders enclose and protect passenger compartment, even outside rear wheels.

OTHER CARS

The floor is placed on top of the frame. The result is a much higher center of gravity, with passengers seated in a less stable area of the car. Frame does not furnish protection around passenger compartment. Seats are narrower; room for free movement while driving is less.

Hudson's new way to build automobiles, with an exclusive recessed floor ("step-down" design), makes possible the lowest center of gravity in any American car.

This means greater stability and easier handling. To which is added the protection of all-welded, steel-girder construction. Furthermore, Hudson alone offers the finest hydraulic brakes with reserve mechanical brakes operating from the same pedal. And there is room for free movement while driving—in fact, more room than in any other car.

You are cordially invited to try "The New Step-Down Ride" and experience all the advantages it offers... including the greatest safety in motoring.

Meet Re-Scheduled For Local Trackers

The Warren High School track squad will make its third attempt to run off a dual meet with the Titusville Rockets this afternoon.

The squad's opener for the 1950 season was scheduled to take place at Titusville, but was postponed yesterday because of rain.

And the rain came again to delay the meet to this afternoon, leaving Coach Harry Hutchings sitting in his office with his fingers crossed.

It's the final contest for the season for the Blue and White, who will be out for an undefeated record in dual and triangular meets. Thus far they have a clean slate of five wins and one tie with Bradford.

This Saturday, May 27, the state meet will be held at State College.

Price Support For Potatoes Is Scored

Harrisburg, May 23—(AP)—The federal price support program for potato growers was condemned here as "completely undemocratic" and an attempt to "regiment" the nation's agriculture.

Hugh McPherson, president of the Pennsylvania Potato Growers Association, declared that the program is "selling Pennsylvania potato growers down the river."

McPherson made his comments at the conclusion of a public hearing here yesterday on the price support question. His organization includes some 1800 potato growers in this state.

He said the federal program is squeezing the commonwealth's potato acreage while permitting growers in other states to expand their acreages.

Earlier, Ivan Miller, a Corry grower, told the meeting that "it would take two enforcement officers per farm to regulate", any effective marketing agreement.

Electric fencing for farms consists generally of a single strand of wire. Its potency lies in the fact it gives a slight shock when an animal comes in contact with it.

LARCENY LOU STEALS GAME WITH FINESSE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

East grunted and looked very suspiciously at South. Since declarer was none other than Larceny Lou, East had good reason to be suspicious. However, East couldn't really be sure what the situation was.

Let's go back to the beginning and we can see just what sort of problem East had. West opened the deuce of hearts, East put up the king, and South won with the ace. There was no expression of cunning on Larceny Lou's face when he led the queen of diamonds to dummy's ace and returned the six of diamonds from dummy. This is where we came in. East had to decide whether South was about to ruff the diamond or whether South was up to one of his regular swindles. If he played the king and South happened to ruff, dummy would then have an established diamond on which declarer could discard later on.

East finally decided that South

South	West	North	East

2 A	Pass	3 A	Pass

was probably "Forest." After all, the normal finesse in diamonds might have been attempted if Larceny Lou happened to hold both the queen and the ten of diamonds. East therefore played low on the second round of diamonds. This was all that Lou needed. He won the second round of diamonds with the ten and drew two rounds of trump, ending in dummy. He next led the jack of diamonds through East. East played
